I am writing you as I am outraged that there are plans to increase our energy bill..electric bill when it is obvious most of america is experiencing economic hardships. When the average american is having a very hard time trying to gather the funds to pay their current utility bills. The federal government has formally annouced that we are in a recession and the cost of living has not gone up and therefore social security need not go up. Yet you want to increase our utility bills when we can't pay them now not only due to our economic hardship but because we had an unusually cold winter and the average electric bill went up an estimated $100 for jan and feb.Please reconsider . We have families to feed and medical bills to pay.

Sincerely gloria Jesberger and kenneth Maure
